

SALESFORCE TEST AUTOMATION SERVICES

Fast-Track Your Salesforce Testing for Better Business Growth

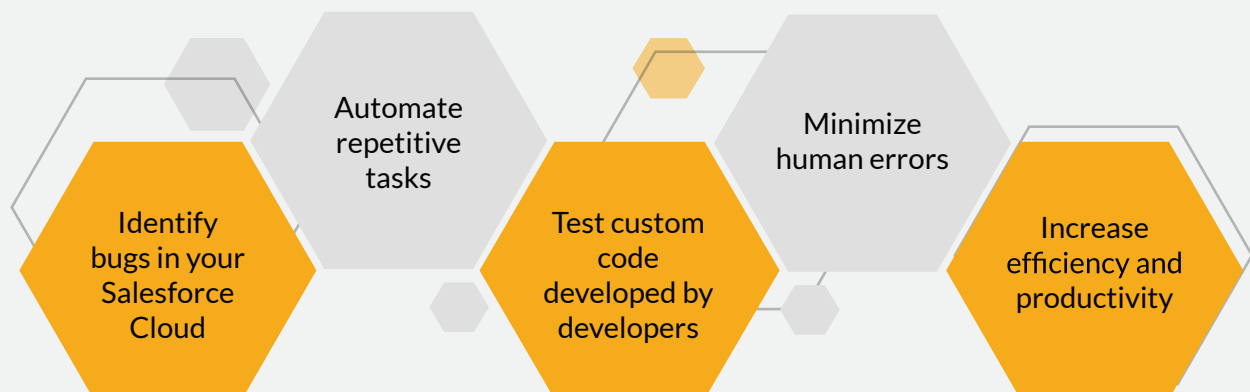

For many Salesforce customers, testing this mammoth platform is costly, time-consuming, and can slow down the delivery cycle. Also, if your Salesforce instance is customized or integrated with external applications, you can witness a lot of manual regression effort and increased operational risk.

That's why you need to automate it.

At Grazitti, we understand the need and importance of delivering a bug-free experience to your Salesforce users and keeping your instance up-to-date with the dynamic needs of your users.

We have a stronghold over several languages, frameworks, best practices, and platforms – including Salesforce and have the know-how to deliver high standards of quality assessment and software testing.
